

Ecological considerations play secondary role

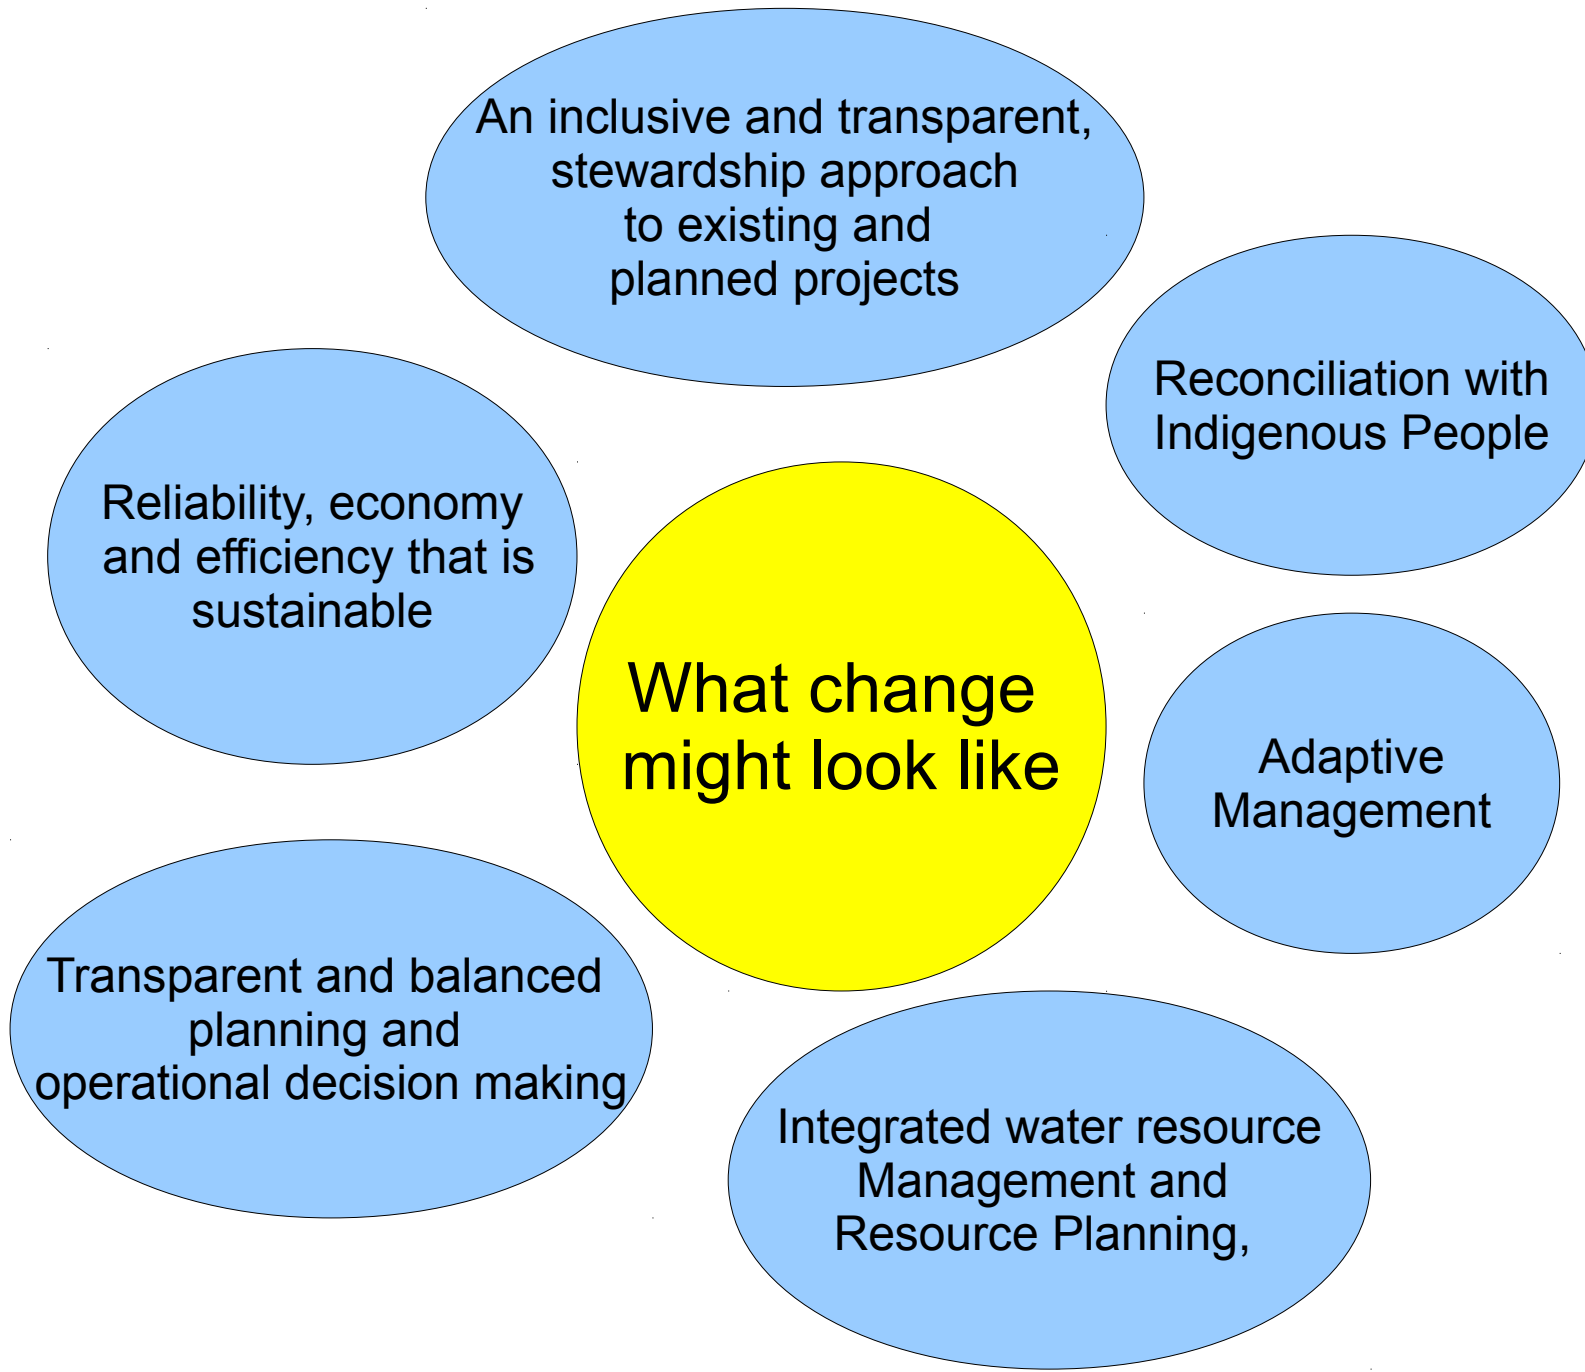

Limited Integrated Water Resource Management

The Status Quo

Opaque, light handed and exclusionary regulation of legacy projects

A fractured but evolving relationship with Indigenous People

Reliability, Economy, And Efficiency

An inclusive and transparent, stewardship approach to existing and planned projects

Reconciliation with Indigenous People

Adaptive Management

Integrated water resource Management and Resource Planning,

Transparent and balanced planning and operational decision making

Reliability, economy and efficiency that is sustainable

What change might look like